Technical Theater Career Pathway + Spotlight Student Publicist Application and Resumé Workshop Student Opportunity

with Cece DeLeon, Jonathan Engebretson, and Z Makila

Event Information

Are you a student technician, stage manager, or designer of any kind? Or do you love to talk, write, and post about theater? Good news! We're offering a special resumé and application workshop for students interested in our Technical Theater Career Pathway and Student Publicist programs! In this 90-minute workshop, students will get an in-depth look at both programs, learn some best practices for applying, and have their questions answered by former program participants.

Date: Wednesday, March 22
5:00–6:30pm

Location: Remote via Zoom

Register: Link in bio!

Z MAKILA (He/Him & They/Them) is an AEA Stage Manager and former Spotlight participant. Some recent theaters Z has worked for include Children's Theatre Company, The Ordway, Theatre Latté Da and Ten Thousand Things Theater.

CECELIA DELEON was a 2022 Spotlight Education Student Publicist and a 2022 Jimmy Awards Student Reporter. She graduated from Stillwater High School and attends Belmont University where she studies Biology and Neuroscience. Cecilia still maintains a strong passion for communications and has a special love for coordinating social media.

JONATHAN ENGBRETSON was a 2022 Spotlight Education Technical Theater Career Pathway winner. He graduated from Kennedy High School and has begun a freelance career as a lighting designer and computerized lighting console programmer. His work can be seen across the country at StarQuest Dance.
